Personal Coach | Success Coach Coaching and Information Field Analysis

A Better Life for You and for Others

Notice

Science does not recognize the existence of Information Fields and their relevance due to lack of scientific evidence. The terms used in the databases and modules are intended to exert a positive mental influence comparable to affirmations, positive thinking, or auto-suggestion, are designed to help users and clients visualize their clear personal goals, and are to be understood as a reference book similar to an encyclopedia. They do not constitute statements concerning effects.

*This coaching module is for personal, family and other non-professional uses, and for uses by professionals in accordance with their scope of practice. Everyone using these programs should be advised that the information they contain should not be solely relied on to make legal, financial, employment, health or personal relationship decisions.

How It Works

- Based on Information Field research by German researcher Marcus Schmiede
- Drawing on the findings of scientists like David Bohm and Anton Zeilinger
- All our mental and emotional issues are stored in a global Information Field, from which they can be retrieved
- Healy uses the principle of quantum entanglement to communicate with the Information Field, identifying the issues that are important to you at any given time – with the goal of harmonizing them.
